ZANDUR INTRODUCES 12" X 24" CORK RUBBER TILES

Zandur's Alturas Cork Rubber Flooring is now available in multiple tile sizes.

Zandur, a green manufacturer dedicated to developing the world's most environmentally sensitive flooring products announces the launch of a new tile size in their "True Green" line of natural Cork Rubber Flooring. The 12" x 24" tile addition creates extensive opportunity for designers to discover their own unique patterns by mixing and matching square or plank cut tile in nearly limitless combination. Zandur's high performance material is more comfortable, quiet and green than any other standard rubber flooring on the market today and is available in 48 standard colors.

Zandur's Cork Rubber Flooring is made from over 65% recycled and renewable cork and 35% rubber and meets the requirements of numerous LEED credits, meets CHPS indoor air quality standards and is anti-microbial. It is intended for commercial use across all market segments including education, hospitality, healthcare and corporate environments. Zandur offers recycling of its products once they have surpassed their useful life.

Download Zandur's Creative Installation Guide to jumpstart your own imagination! The nine patterns included in the guide are just a taste of the endless possibilities for patterning using the Zandur 12 X 24 and 24 X 24 Conztruct building block system.
